HONEYMOON news

Hot HOTEL

Where: Just-opened Portrait Firenze in the heart of Florence, with views of the Ponte Vecchio and River Arno. What: It's owned by haute fashion label Ferragamo, so as you'd expect the decor is stunning, from the handcrafted furniture to the black and white photographs of the city in the 1950s. There are lots of cool extras too: complimentary iPads, a kitchenette for drinks and snacks, walk-in wardrobes and toiletries by Salvatore Ferragamo (obvs!). Lunch at the Portrait Caffè, overlooking the river, is not to be missed. Rooms from €450 (lungarnocollection.com).

QA My husband is a dive fanatic but I'm more of a spa and beach girl. Where would you recommend for our honeymoon?

The new One&Only Hayman Island (hayman.oneandonlyresorts.com) lies in the Great Barrier Reef, considered to be one of the world's best dive spots. But before you yawn, bear with us, because this private island resort off Australia's Queensland coast offers a wealth of other experiences too, from forest hikes to gourmet beach picnics and a couples' massage in the sumptuous spa. Rooms from £395 per night. Opens in July.

Ssshhh Ensure you land looking refreshed and revitalised with the new Elemis Pro-Collagen Hydra-Gel Eye Mask (£46 for six). It prevents puffiness and leaves your skin smoother by locking in moisture.

3 SEXY ROOMS with a view

The eight enormous split-level suites at Hotel Nautical (hotelnautical.com) in Fethiye, Turkey, have lounges that leads onto a terrace with infinity pool and ocean view. Seven nights from £1,390 per person.

Ink48 (ink48.com) in New York's hip Hell's Kitchen doesn't have a view, it has the view the whole of Manhattan laid out before you, and is wildly romantic day or night. Rooms from £269 per night.

Goat at a kaleidoscope of blue sky, turquoise sea and yellow beach from the bed in your junior suite at St Regis Resort Mauritius. Seven nights from £1,600 per person, including flights (kenwoodtravel.co.uk).
